Sexual revolution in South Africa

The Pink Agenda

The ruin of the family

The Pink Agenda, Sexual Revolution in South Africa and the Ruin of the Family by Christine Mc Cafferty and Peter Hammond was released in November 2001. It warns of the Pink Agenda (the homosexualising of South Africa) which includes changes to laws and Acts to promote homosexuality. The book warned of the coming homosexual co-adoptions (legalised at court level, 10 September 2002) and the institutionalisation of so-called homosexual marriages (partnerships) (case brought before the Pretoria High Court, 16 October 2002). So far the book's accuracy has proven to be prophetic. Frighteningly, The Pink Agenda goes on to warn of the next wave in the sexual revolution, the acceptance of paedophilia (the South African Law Commission is paving the way for paedophilia; proposing changes to the Child Care Act that would allow children to enter marriage type relationships).

The homosexual lobby has full access to the youth of South Africa through the current sexually explicit curriculum. CEO of loveLife, Dr David Harrison, told a gathering of evangelical ministers (10 October 2002), representatives for the Muslim Judicial Council and Jewish Ecclesiastical Board, that loveLife promotes homosexuality, and will not back down, and that homosexuality is enshrined in the Constitution. However, the Constitutional Court ruled that "...those persons who for reasons religious or other belief disagree with or condemn homosexual conduct are free to hold and articulate such beliefs." We should therefore take full advantage of this opportunity while there is still hope. The message of loveLife is reaching 350 000 people every month! LoveLife has a budget in excess of R600 million. LoveLife is a front for Planned Parenthood, which is the world's largest abortion provider.

Christine Mc Cafferty & Charl v Wyk at the Film and Publication Board. The homosexual lobby's attempt to censor the book was unsuccessful.

Chapter 7 of The Pink Agenda deals with the homosexualisation of sex education. Christian youth workers in public schools are beginning to see the signs - more homosexual experimentation and general confusion about the moral correctness of the homosexual behaviour and acts. The Pink Agenda offers hope for the person trapped in the homosexual lifestyle, references over 80 scientific studies, looks at the myth that people are born gay, reviews the history of the homosexual movement in South Africa and considers the implications for marriage, the family and society.

To combat the homosexualisation of South Africa's youth Africa Christian Action is embarking on a project to raise sponsorship to donate a copy of The Pink Agenda to every school library in the country.

TO DO THIS, WE NEED YOUR HELP!

Each PINK AGENDA book costs R58 (R2 of each book sold goes to Evangelical organisations that successfully counsel homosexuals to leave the lifestyle).

The Greatest Century of Missions

Peter Hammond

with introduction by George Grant

South African State Education has recently undergone radical ideological changes. This has affected all aspects of the curriculum, with a special emphasis on the rewriting of history. "History... will specifically address human rights issues such as "prejudice, persecution, oppression, exploitation, sexism and racism, xenophobia, genocide and other forms of discrimination." History will "promote an awareness of the violation of human rights in the period of exploration, colonialisation and slavery" (Social Sciences, History, Grade 6 Focus, Africa). Tragically the state wishes to teach history from a Marxist perspective, coupled with the promotion of Evolution (Social Sciences, History, Grade 7 Focus).

This compulsory anti-Christian, secular curriculum could result in the following curse, lest we act appropriately:

"...Another generation arose after them who did not know the LORD nor the work which He had done..." Judges 2:10. This of course resulted in a post-modern, situational ethics culture that embraced relativism and secular humanism. "In those days there was no king in Israel; everyone did what was right in his own eyes." Judges 21:25.

The Greatest Century of Missions is an evangelical history book, ideally suited to the South African History specified outcomes. The Greatest Century of Missions, by Dr Peter Hammond, is a treasure trove of incredible adventures, inspiring exploits and unbelievable achievements of some of the most extra-ordinary people in the most momentous era of Christian advance. Real life heroes and heroines, inspiring stories and the truth about how slaves, widow burning, cannibalism and other social evils were eradicated.

Dr. George Grant in his Introduction writes: "...To cultures endemic with terrible poverty, brutality, lawlessness, and disease, those faithful Christian witnesses interjected the novel Christian concepts of grace, charity, law, medicine and the sanctity of life. They overturned despots, liberated the captives and rescued the perishing. They established hospitals. They founded orphanages. They started rescue missions. They built almshouses. They opened soup kitchens. They incorporated charitable societies. They changed laws. They demonstrated love. They lived as if people really mattered. Wherever missionaries went, they faced a dual challenge: confront sin in men's hearts and confront sin in men's cultures... The Greatest Century of Missions... makes the individual missionaries come to life... see the great pioneers, these culture-shapers, these soul-winners and nation-builders of the 19th Century in an entirely new light... see a glorious transformation of men and nations..."

Given the fact that the current school curriculum is anti-God, Africa Christian Action is starting a project to raise sponsorship to donate a copy of The Greatest Century of Missions to every school library in the country.

Each Greatest Century of Missions book costs R68.
